

CHRISTMAS BOOKS

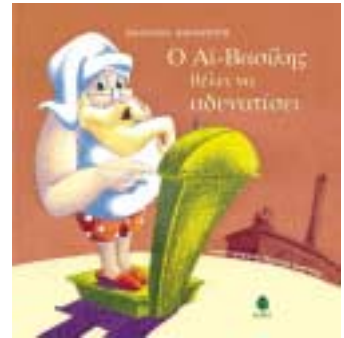

ATHANASSIA ABARIOTI

Santa Claus Wants to Lose Weight

21,5 X 21,5 HARDBACK P. 24
AGE: 5+

ILLUSTRATIONS:
MICHALIS KASSAPIS

Santa Claus's assistants are flabbergasted when they hear him say that he wants to lose weight. They try to persuade him that children love him exactly the way he is. Eventually, they propose a formula that will help him keep fit and in shape but without altering his very sweet, cuddly and really unique appearance.

IOANNA DAKOLIA

The Assistants of Santa Claus

24 X 29 HARDBACK P. 40
AGE: 7+

ILLUSTRATIONS:
EFI LADA

When all the tales of the little hobgoblins of the Oozee Tolkee clan came to an end, silence and despair spread over the village and its people. So, they all decide to start a journey — a long journey to faraway places, in search of Santa Claus, guardian of all fables and stories and fairy tales, and the only person who could give them back their lost imagination... This journey will change their lives...

And we, readers of this delightful book, we are going to find out how the goblins became the faithful assistants of Santa Claus.

Christmas Is On the Way!

23 X 24 HARDBACK P. 32

AGE: 7+

ILLUSTRATIONS:

ALEKOS FASSIANOS

Children are always awaiting eagerly for the arrival of Christmas and of all the delightful mid-winter celebrations and... school vacations that come with it! Christmas is a beautiful time of the year – full of light and love, of joy and happiness.

It's exactly this very festive time that Yannakis – little Johnny, that is – is now waiting for so full of beans and high expectations, and in the good company of some very mischievous imps and goblins and elves and pixies!

NANA MARMARA-DAYIOGLOU

A Christmas Dream

21,5 X 29,5 HARDBACK P. 32

AGE: 5+

ILLUSTRATIONS:

CHRISTOS DIMOS

– I, said the fir tree with great yearning, I would like very much to become a very fancy and very jazzy christmas tree! I would like to be placed next to a roaring fireplace, and to be decorated with love and joy by lovely children's hands. And, raising its green top towards the sky, the fir tree sent its heartfelt wish up to high heaven with all its might...

KIRA SINOY

The Christmas Robot and Other Stories

14 X 21 PAPERBACK P. 80

AGE: 6+

Having just woken up, Santa Claus is in a hurry! He makes a last minute's check in the contents of his sack. What if his gifts are not enough to go round? Not to worry... God bless the little goblin who is ready and willing to help him out... Still, where are the reindeers to pull Santa's sledge? How is he going to make his rounds in time? Everyone awaits his annual visit full of happy expectations. It's only Mr. Paravas who looks rather depressed. Poor man! He seems to have a lot of trouble with the robot he has bought. How will he manage?

Santa's Razzle-Dazzle

21 X 28 HARDBACK P. 40

AGE: 6+

ILLUSTRATIONS:

DANIELLA STAMATIADI

Santa Claus believes that no work can be harder than his own job. Who else can make the most beautiful toys in the world, teach reindeers to fly, read the many thousands of letters sent to him by children, and travel within a few hours all around the world to dispatch Christmas and New Year's presents?

Mrs Santa Claus, on the other hand, believes that it is not at all easy to keep the house clean, to cook food for scores of pixies and fairies, to sew festive uniforms and to bake thousands of cookies and cakes for Christmas and New Year? They both have a point and a good reason to... make a bet!

